Security

Password Protection Directories

This option will allow you to require a login name and password to access the contents of a directory or folder in the area reserved for your domain on the server. A very useful feature when you want to restrict access to certain areas of your site. It is important to note that all folders within the protected directory will also be protected by the same password.

Unique solution ID: #2157
Author: MFORMULA
Last update: 2017-03-22 16:00